

Carey Roesler, PA-C

Carey Roesler joined the National Commission of Physician Assistants Board of Directors in 2020 as PA Director at Large.

Roesler comes to the Board with over 20 years as a physician assistant in orthopedics, most recently working at Johns Hopkins University, where she served as Chief Physician Assistant from 2003 to 2006.

Practicing in Maryland, Roesler has been a student preceptor for the Towson, Anne Arundel and NOVA PA programs.

She has a Bachelor of Science degree in Biological Sciences from the University of Maryland College Park, and obtained her physician assistant degree from Essex Community College. Most recently, Roesler obtained a Business of Medicine certificate from Johns Hopkins University.

In 2020 she was the first to receive the inaugural “Advanced Practitioner of the Year” award from the chief orthopedic residents at Johns Hopkins University, an award granted for excellence in teaching.
